Impact of Unaccompanied Homeless Youth Status

Based on the answers provided by the student, parent information is not required on the FAFSA® form. The student can sign and submit the FAFSA form, but will need to contact the school's financial aid office about their circumstances. The school will be required to make a determination about the student's unaccompanied homeless youth status based on a written statement from the student or a documented interview with the student. Until the student's circumstances are verified, the U.S. Department of Education's office of Federal Student Aid will only provide the student an estimate of their federal student aid eligibility.

The screenshot displays the FAFSA 2026-27 application interface for Student Alex Tran. The progress bar at the top indicates the following steps: 1. Personal Circumstances (highlighted), 2. Based on your answers, you can submit your application without answering questions about your parent(s). To complete the financial aid process, you'll need to contact the financial aid office at the college or career school you wish to attend. If you are not in contact with a parent or contacting a parent would pose a risk to you, you are considered a provisionally independent student. You will need to speak with the financial aid office at your school about your circumstances. If you have indicated that you are unaccompanied and either (1) homeless or (2) self-supporting and at risk of being homeless, the financial aid office at your school is required to make a determination of your status based on a written statement from you or a documented interview with you. Contact your school's financial aid office to complete this process. We can't make an accurate calculation of your federal student aid eligibility until you discuss this with your financial aid office. Until then, we will provide only an estimate of your federal student aid eligibility as an independent student." At the bottom of the page, there are "Previous" and "Continue" buttons.
